

WILSON'S CONDITION TODAY ABOUT SAME, STILL GRAVELY ILL

He Spent a Good Night and His Condition is More Favorable

Members of the Family Remained at the White House

(By United Press)
Official Statement Issued
Bulletin (11:00 A. M.)—"The president had a good night last night and his condition is more favorable," said an official statement issued today by Dr. Cary T. Grayson.

Washington, (9:00 A. M.)—Oct. 4—President Wilson spent a quiet night, it was unofficially stated at the White House and seems to have rested. Members of the family remained at the White House.

President Some Better
Washington, Oct. 4—(10:00 A. M.) Dr. Grayson was at the president's bedside for a considerable time this morning and an official statement was momentarily expected. It was announced unofficially the president was better.

Dr. E. Stitt, head of the naval medical school, and Dr. Sterling Ruffin, Mrs. Wilson's family physician, went into consultation shortly after 10 A. M. Dr. Deereum of Philadelphia was to arrive at 11 A. M. These consultations are to continue two times daily.

Washington, Oct. 4—(8:00 A. M.)—President Wilson's condition this morning was about the same according to unofficial information. The president is still "gravely ill" it was said.

It was stated that he was slightly improved and hope was expressed that this improvement recorded by Dr. Grayson would mark a turn and show steady progress today. His physical condition was considered good early today and his pulse was normal and there has been no high temperature.

President Further Improved
Washington, Oct. 4—President Wilson's condition at noon today was considered further improved according to unofficial information at the White House. Dr. Grayson was keeping him in bed.

The president's regular oculist was expected to arrive at the White House this afternoon. He consults with him two times yearly.

When Dr. Grayson was taking his temperature this morning he remarked, "Your temperature is normal." "Yes, my temperature is normal but my temper won't be if you keep me in bed much longer," the president said.

The Bulgarian and the Spanish ministers and the Peruvian charge d'affaires, called at the White House today to ask about the present.

Scores of telegrams have been received expressing hope for his early and complete recovery. The issuing of Dr. Grayson's bulletin at 11 A. M. was delayed by a long conference of the physicians, Stitt, Ruffin and Grayson.

Throughout his illness he has not been concerned about himself, a fact which has hastened his recovery. The president upon awakening this morning chatted and laughed. Mrs. Wilson was in the sick room at an early hour. She is assisted by two trained nurses in caring for the president.

Continues to Improve
Bulletin (1:00 P. M.)—President Wilson's condition at this hour was improved, it was learned at the White House.

Bulletin—The consultation of the physicians broke up shortly after one o'clock and it was stated that all agreed with the opinion of Dr. Grayson that the president was improving.

Washington, Oct. 4—President Wilson's illness is expected to put upon his lieutenants in the senate the responsibility of deciding how much to accept in the way of reservations in the peace treaty. It is expected that within five weeks the treaty will be disposed of. President Wilson's ill health will have no other effect on the treaty fight.

Former President Taft's latest draft of a reservation on Article X which was under discussion today, differs little from the McCumber reservation, the one which President Wilson denounced in the Salt Lake City speech, senators said.

King Albert Changes Plans

Cancels Arrangements Made for Tour of Country and Will Go to California Incognito
(By United Press)
New York, Oct. 4—King Albert of Belgium has cancelled arrangements for his tour of the United States, owing to President Wilson's illness. The program for entertainment at Boston tomorrow, and Buffalo the next day will remain unchanged, but from the latter city King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince and the retinue will go direct to the Pacific coast, traveling incognito. They will remain in some secluded point in California until October 14 when they will go to San Francisco to resume the tour, if the President's condition is sufficiently improved in the meantime.

The King also cancelled their plans for attending the Hippodrome theatre last night, but it was believed however that they would carry out the program arranged for today.

Breckenridge Long, third assistant secretary of state, in a statement announcing the change in the King's plans, said that the King was partly influenced by the Queen who is not particularly well.

New York, Oct. 4—Accompanied by Count D'Oulremont, a member of the royal party King Albert flew over New York this morning in a navy hydroplane, spending one half hour in the air. "It was a fine trip and the sight was wonderful," the king said.

Escorted by two secret service men he left the hotel at 8 o'clock proceeding to Eighty-sixth street and boarded the plane at the bank of the Hudson river.

Bonus Law May Be Subjected to Test of Courts

Bond Buyers Propose to Determine Constitutionality of Legislative Act

St. Paul, Oct. 3—Minnesota's $20,000,000 soldiers' bonus law may be subjected to court tests to establish its constitutionality and validity beyond any question. Such action is contemplated by bond concerns purposing to buy the certificates of indebtedness offered under the law. Any litigation that is commenced probably will mean from 30 to 90 days delay in the beginning of the actual payments of bonuses, it was semi-officially stated.

Henry Rines, state treasurer, and a member of the bonus board, learned of the proposal for court tests and consulted Clifford L. Hilton. Representatives of St. Paul banks and bond concerns later conferred with both officials regarding probable dates of sales, amounts to be offered and other details and suggested that test suits might be started.

"The state will not encourage any move in that direction," Atty. General Hilton later announced. There is no desire on our part for test suit."

Any test suit it was said probably would be brought in the Ramsey county district court and taken promptly to the state supreme court.

99 Per Cent of Strikers are Foreigners

So Testified T. J. Davies, a Non-Striking Steel Worker Before Senate Committee

Washington, Oct. 4—Non-striking steel workers were heard by the senate investigating committee today.

The walkout is the element of a conspiracy, T. J. Davies, of Newcastle, Pa., said. He quoted remarks of foreign workers, who said there would be no superintendents and the mills would be run by a committee. Davies said he thought he represented the opinion of 10,000 workers. A Greek worker under Davies said masked men came into his home and threatened to kill his wife, and said her husband would be killed unless he joined the strikers. About 99 per cent of the strikers in Newcastle are foreigners. One thousand men struck out on the first day but half of them have returned to work since, he said. Returned soldiers volunteered to fill the places of strikers after violations broke out.

By ED. L. KEEN

HENRY L. FARRELL,

Chicago, Oct. 4 (11:00 A. M.)—Light gray clouds which held the possibility of rain, appeared in the skies on the fourth day of the world series games. Heavy rain was not expected and the weather man said chances to play today's game were good.

Chicago, Oct. 4—Pat Moran's Cincinnati Reds proved themselves masters of the touted Cicotte again today. Cicotte threw the game away in the 5th inning when his two errors let the Reds score twice. The White Sox pitcher wilted. In the second inning with the bases loaded, Cicotte failed to deliver the hit that would have put the game on ice.

In the meantime Jimmy Ring made himself a place in the hall of fame by pitching a magnificent game for the Reds.

Comiskey Field, Chicago, Oct. 4—A grim tenseness was felt in the atmosphere when the White Sox and Reds met for the fourth game of the world's series. Every action of the athletes on the field revealed the knowledge that today's game may be the turning point. On the opening day of the series Cincinnati was full to the brim with confidence and regarded the task as a mere pastime.

Old Bridge Stood for Centuries.
The new London bridge was opened on August 1, 1831. This replaced the celebrated old bridge, built more than eight centuries before. It had 18 solid stone piers, with bulky stone arches and was covered from end to end with buildings. On the "Tailor's gate," at one end, the heads of traitors were shown. It was removed on account of its obstruction to navigation.

Triple Tone Electric Bell.
Three separate and distinct sounds are given by an electric bell which operates on ordinary lighting current by means of a transformer. In the home the bell can be connected with push buttons installed at three different doors—front, kitchen and side, for example. When one button is pressed a clear ring results, when the second is operated a buzz is produced, and when the third button is pushed a combination buzz and ring results. In the office or shop this bell will prove most useful, since it can be used to call three different persons without necessitating them to count the number of rings, as must often be done when the customary signaling is employed. This bell has no contact points to burn out and no batteries to replace.

SHAFT AT IRONTON DESTROYED IN NIGHT

Iron-ton, Oct. 3.—Joan Mining company No. 4 north of Iron-ton shaft, was completely destroyed Wednesday night. The shaft is about 100 feet deep and was in good shape when the watchman left the property at 6 o'clock last night.

No night watchman's employed. The shaft is a complete loss from the surface down, being caved completely as though dynamite was used for its destruction, which the mine operators are inclined to think caused the damage. The mine has not been operated for the past six months.

All that is left to show that a shaft was in operation at the spot is a wooden headframe slightly leaning over and a hole in the surface of the ground 50 feet square.

The Joan was a manganiferous ore producer and operated by George M. Fay and interests of Duluth. An investigation will be made to determine how the accident occurred.

Birds Have Right of Way.
Fowl have the right of way in air, warns the director of military aeronautics. This is justice indeed, since birds flew first.

But this is not all. Recently many towns along the Atlantic coast have been visited with dead bird showers. Aviators flying by a town would see a flock of wild fowl coming their way. They would set their machine guns and let the bullets fly.

Presently a prominent citizen walking below would be hit with a large, bloody bird. He complained to the town, and the town complained to the department of agriculture. Then the federal migratory bird law between the United States and Great Britain was referred to, and it was found that shooting birds from airplanes is unlawful.

The Wrong Man.
When I was an eighteen-year-old girl I was keeping house in my mother's absence and received word from an old friend of the family, of whom I was very fond, that he was to be our guest for a day or two. Toward evening when the doorbell rang I told our little colored maid to answer it and show Mr. Blank into the living room.

I rushed into the room which was half dark, some minutes later and threw my arms around the gentleman who rose to greet me and kissed him soundly only to hear a strange voice say, "I called to see if I could interest you in a wonderful set of books I am showing today."

I backed to the light and turned it on to view a perfect stranger—a book agent. But Mr. Blank's timely arrival just then saved a little of my embarrassing explanation.—Chicago Tribune.

Three separate and distinct sounds are given by an electric bell which operates on ordinary lighting current by means of a transformer. In the home the bell can be connected with push buttons installed at three different doors—front, kitchen and side, for example. When one button is pressed a clear ring results, when the second is operated a buzz is produced, and when the third button is pushed a combination buzz and ring results. In the office or shop this bell will prove most useful, since it can be used to call three different persons without necessitating them to count the number of rings, as must often be done when the customary signaling is employed. This bell has no contact points to burn out and no batteries to replace.

PRODIGES PROVE A PUZZLE

Psychological Experts Unable to Account for Their Amazing Proficiency in England.

Infant prodigies are being discovered in England almost daily. Some connect this with the psychology of war. One of the youthful marvels is Pamela Blanco, a thirteen-year-old girl artist, whose drawings were given the place of honor in an exhibition at one of the principal London galleries.

Critics dealt with them quite seriously and said that the work was suggestive of Botticelli and some of the other old masters. Pamela is an Italian girl who was born in England and never had taken any drawing lessons.

Ronnie Routledge, four, little more than a baby, whose parents know nothing of music, has enjoyed six months of tuition on the violin. At the Grimsby College of Violinists recently he outranked 43 competitors, most of them in the twenties, and scored 119 points in a possible 120. Professor Danton describes him as a miracle.

Little Robbie Day, aged seven, of Brighton son of a motor mechanic, has wonderful powers of clairvoyance, according to the Weekly Dispatch. Blindfolded, he described a number of articles. These included a treasury note (giving its color, numbers and writing on the back), the color and texture of a piece of fabric he had never seen, the correct answer to a complicated sum in mental arithmetic and figures written down at random.

After five minutes' test he complained of feeling icy cold. "I just see little pictures and I just say them," is Bobbie's explanation.

FOR C. BRUHN

Friends and Teachers of Sunday
School Honor Retiring Superintendent

Last evening at the home of Mrs. A. E. Losey, North Fourth street, a number of friends gathered with the teachers of the Sunday school of the First Congregational church and spent a very pleasant evening. The purpose of the coming together of the friends was to greet C. Bruhn who has served the Sunday school faithfully through a long period. In appreciation of his services the assembled friends presented Mr. Bruhn, who has retired from the superintendency of the school, with a very good, heavy, silk umbrella. Rev. Fred Errington made the presentation on behalf of the school, and amused the company by telling of an occasion when Mr. Bruhn got wet, suggesting that the committee had showed wisdom in choosing the gift. Mr. Bruhn replied thanking the friends, stating that he had done what he could for the school and hoping that it would grow under the superintendency of the newly elected officer.

Refreshments were served and the people left for their homes with a happy sense of appreciation of the splendid manner in which they had been entertained by Mrs. Losey and Miss Robinson.

Christian Endeavor

The Christian Endeavor society of the Peoples' Congregational church has purchased a fine table for the church, in addition to their gifts of many other helpful things for the use of the society and congregation. This society recently had a very interesting and happy meeting at the home of the Crust twins, where plans were made for future work. Ice cream and cake were bountifully served, and the music and games were highly enjoyed.

To Clean Copper.

Half a lemon dipped in salt will clean copper boilers, etc., as well as oxalic acid will.

Reeve-Tuttle

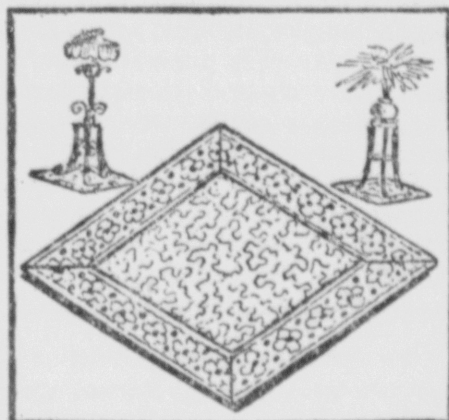

Nelson Ernest Tuttle and Miss Hazel Myrtle Reeve were united in marriage at the First Congregational parsonage on Thursday morning, Oct. 2 at 11 o'clock. Rev. Fred Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church read the marriage service in which by joining hands and receiving a ring they pledged themselves. The young couple was attended by Miss Nora Murray and Glenn Reeve. The bride and bridesmaid carried beautiful bouquets.

FROM REMNANTS OF CARPET

Useful Little Mat for Standard Lamp or Fern Stand That Is by No Means Expensive.

Carpet mats of every kind are still extremely expensive compared with pre-war prices, but some very useful little mats can be made at home with small remnants of stair-carpet or the good portions cut from an old worn-out carpet.

We give a sketch of a mat suitable for placing under a standard lamp or a fern stand, that was made with a small remnant of stair carpet. The border of the carpet was carefully cut away, and the center portion cut into a diamond shape. Then pieces of the border were cut to fit around it, and the whole thing sewn together and lined at the back with coarse canvas.

Square or oblong mats can, of course, be made upon the same lines, and sufficient material for several doormats may often be gleaned from an old dining-room or bedroom carpet. Our sketch clearly shows the way in which the border should be fitted around the carpet.

Aid's Hunter's Aim.

To insure a hunter a steady aim an inventor has patented an arm rest, fastened to the body with a waist belt.

MAKE THAT BLOUSE AT HOME

Popular Over-the-Skirt Garment Need Have No Terrors for the Woman Clever With Her Needle.

One might almost think that the original designer of the costume or over-the-skirt blouse had the home dressmaker and her limitation in mind as the inspiration for this very popular garment. There can be no denying that it is easier to make than the blouse that must be drawn in at the waistline and made to fit the figure. Practically all of the long blouses are straight in line, with only a girder or belt to indicate the waistline if a fitted effect is desired, while equally as many are allowed to hang straight.

A smart and unusual straight smock blouse in hip length recently seen was made of heavy satin with a deep band at the bottom done in cross-stitch embroidery in contrasting color to simulate smocking. The sleeves were similarly finished.

Another straight blouse recently brought out was a straight hip length affair, cut on smock lines, and made of heavy lace douncing, the scallops of the lace forming the edge of the blouse. A lining of chiffon in color formed the foundation of the blouse. The sleeves were long and bell shape.

The lovely fabrics that are obtainable this season and the very simple styles that have received the unqualified approval of Dame Fashion join forces to make the work of the home dressmaker easy. Good taste in selecting fabrics and judgment in determining what style is best fitted to the individual figure, together with the ability to do fine hand work are all that is required for the development of these blouses.

FASHION'S FADS.

Nothing makes a prettier suit for a growing girl than tweed.

Ball tassels finish the soft girder of some very pretty coats.

Dark blue satin and gabardine make a pretty combination.

Navy blue, black and the various shades of tan are the fall colors.

Buttons and girdles are still the most important points of trimming.

Children are now more simply dressed than they have ever been.

Collars and cuffs are sometimes laced with ribbon of a becoming shade.

Little girl's girdles are of narrow ribbon tied in a soft bow in front.

Make the blue serge dress the foundation of the schoolgirl's wardrobe.

There are many frills and platings about some of the new evening frocks.

SEEMINGLY NO AGE LIMIT

Applicants for Divorce Are by No Means Always in the Days of Their Callow Youth.

There is no age limit to divorce. In Oregon a woman at the age of eighty-two years is suing for a decree from her husband, who is a callow stripling of seventy-one summers. This seems to be another case of too much mother-in-law, as the wife asserts that her husband's love has been alienated and undermined through the work of his mother, who is now ninety-four years old and who never did like her, anyhow. They have been married some ten years now, and the wife said that when the husband took her money to buy an auto for his mother and wouldn't let his wife ride in it, she knew that his love was dead. When she remonstrated the husband coldly informed her that she could leave the house. When the wife said that the home was her own and bought with her own money the husband replied that might be so, but he had thoughtfully had the deed recorded in his own name. Now she has to appeal to the courts. It is rather rough when a bride of eighty-two has to compete with a ninety-four-year-old mother-in-law for the affections of her husband.

TRYING TO KEEP UP WITH THE JONESES

C. F. Chapman of St. Paul, talking W. S. S. before the Commercial club, said something when he declared that "trying to keep up with the Joneses is one of the worst enemies to thrift."

And it is also one of the large factors in the so-called High Cost of Living.

It is notorious—any merchant will confirm it—that the average American of whatever degree and of whatever financial condition, between two articles of somewhere near the same real value will invariably choose the higher priced; that the average American, because of this foolish habit of voluntarily and even eagerly paying ridiculously high prices and being proud of it, pictures himself as a gudgeon whose chief ambition it is to be "stung."

There is a problem of the High Cost of Living; but anybody who misses the problem of the Cost of High Living, and who fails to realize that it is very important factor in the High Cost of Living, is making a foolish and very serious mistake.

It isn't so much what a man earns that determines whether he is going to be comfortable or uncomfortable financially, but what he does with it. If he dispenses his income foolishly and extravagantly, as millions do, he has very little excuse for complaining of any High Cost of Living.

INCREASED PRODUCTION WILL REDUCE H. C. OF L.

So long as the high cost of production due to increased wages and decreased hours compels restriction of output so long will the high cost of living prevail. As production decreases prices increase. When production increases prices will fall. We cannot get away from economic law.

This was one of the striking features of an address recently made by Premier David Lloyd George. It will be recalled that Lloyd George is the author of the state insurance law in England, the author of the law which seeks to tax all great estates at their full value and is generally recognized as the world statesman who has brought about greater recognition of the worker by national government and more legislation of the so-called socializing character than any other man in the world. Mr. Lloyd George also said:

"That which makes for the prosperity of the world is what we produce. We cannot hope for lower costs unless everyone does his part. This seems to be the one solution which is generally agreed to as one of the means of getting back to normal conditions in the matter of living costs. The tendency for higher wages, shorter hours and a shorter output, which prevails would therefore seem to be moves in the wrong direction."

"It was a dangerous and fatal fallacy that the less men worked the more work there would be for others, and it is highly important for those having influence with workers to do their utmost to explode this fallacy."—Lloyd George.

World Is in Its Infancy.

We should not, I think, proceed far in this study without being convinced that civilization is still in its infancy. How distant is the human mind from the perfection to which it may attain—from the perfection for which it was created? How incapable are we of grasping the whole future destiny of man! Let any one even descend into his own mind—let him picture there the highest point of perfection to which man, to whom society may attain that he can achieve, that he can hope; let him then contrast this picture with the present state of the world, and he will feel assured that society and civilization are still in their childhood; that however great the distance they have advanced, that which they have before them is incomparably, infinitely, greater.—Guizot's History of Civilization.

NORTHWEST NEWS

(By United Press)

Tuberculosis Losses

St. Paul, Oct. 4.—Minnesota lost more young people from tuberculosis last year than the total of her losses from the World War, according to Red Cross figures today.

The Red Cross Christmas Seal Campaign is vigorously under way and officials are trying to impress upon the public the importance of bending every effort against the "great white plague."

New Canadian Loan

Winnipeg, Oct. 4.—A new Canadian loan of half billion dollars is expected to be floated this month to help cover war debts.

The war is still costing Canada about $500,000 a day according to Hon. Raynor, new finance minister, who succeeds Sir Thomas White. The latter resigned to devote his time to the motion picture industry.

Canada is paying more than 80,000 pensions to soldiers dependent as a result of the war, it was pointed out. If a gratuity of $2,000 is paid each soldier who had in active part in the war the war cost will be boosted in a lump sum about $300,000,00.

Football Conference

Minneapolis, Oct. 4.—With football—conference and otherwise—getting up head steam today the feature game of northwest institutions was the much advertised clash of the University of Minnesota and University of North Dakota at Northrop field this afternoon.

While the Gophers are much touted and wisecracks are looking to a successful season for Dr. William's charges, the North Dakotans were expected to put up a good front. North Dakota has produced some husky football men and this year's team observers declared, is better than any previous.

The Gophers will meet the smashing Nebraska eleven at Northrop field next Saturday and will then travel to Indianapolis to open the conference season October 25 and the Illinois eleven will be here November 8.

High School Football

St. Paul, Oct. 4.—Much interest has been aroused in high schools throughout the state in the state high school football championship games to be played this fall.

Dr. H. L. Williams, coach of the University of Minnesota football squad, has offered a silver loving cup for the champion high school gridiron eleven. The University is supervising the championship games arrangements.

Every county in the state will have a chance at the championship under the plan outlined by University officials. The state has been divided into eight major sections for the purpose of district elimination games. The finals will be played on Northrup field here, probably on the morning of the University game. The arrangement of counties into sections is:

Northwest section: Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Polk, Pennington, Red Lake, Clearwater, Norman, Mahanomen, Clay, Becker, Wilkin, Otter Tail, Wadena, Cass, Hubbard, Beltrami.

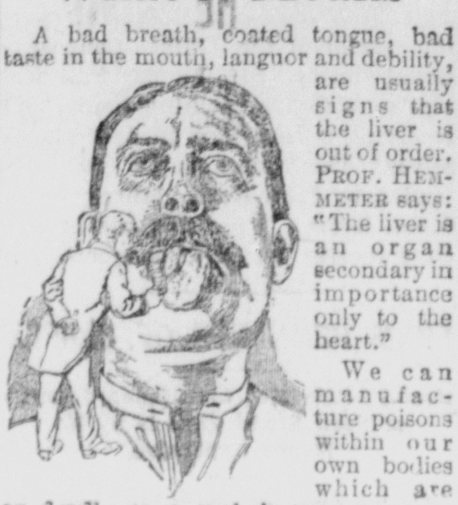

Northeast section: Koochiching, Itasca, St. Louis, Lake, Cook and Carlton.

West Central Section: Crow Wing, Traverse, Big Stone, Grant, Douglas, Stevens, Pope, Swift, Chippewa, Kandiyohi, Meeker, Wright, Stearns, Todd, Morrison.

East Central Section: Aitkin, Pine, Chisago, Anoka, Sherburne, Isanti, Benton, Mille Lacs, Kanabec.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, languor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order.

PROF. HENRY METER says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance only to the heart."

We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom.

The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation.

A blockage in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take castor oil or a pleasant laxative. Date, Plans and Details Soon to be Announced for Exercises at the Opening of N. P. Depot

COURT HOUSE CORNER STONE

An Address to be Given, Resume of History of County—Whole County to Attend

At a special meeting of the Public Affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce last evening, W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the M. & I. railway company, was made chairman of the committee in charge of the reception and exercises to be held in honor of the opening of the new Northern Pacific depot here. The date, plans and all details will be announced in the near future. President Julie M. Hannaford of the Northern Pacific and other officials are expected to be present.

It was suggested that the observance of the realization of this long-cherished hope of Brainerd citizens include an elaborate banquet and, if agreeable to the officials of the railroad company, that the new depot be opened to the public for inspection in the early evening, the banquet to follow at a place to be decided upon later. The secretary will confer with Chairman Gemmell and further announcements will be made soon.

The Court House
The laying of the corner stone of the Crow Wing county court house was discussed by the committee. Chairman Edward Crust of the board of county commissioners, meeting with the committee. An address by a speaker prominent in public life, resume of the history of the county to be read at the dedication exercises, and the placing of copies of local papers with a story of the court house, its dimensions, architecture, etc., with other data under the cornerstone, will be features of the event. It is to be made a county-wide event and official invitations sent to the executive heads of every city and village in the county as well as to the supervisors in each township.

The date is to be announced in the near future and will be set for the month of October. The Brainerd band will be invited to furnish music for the event.

COLORED MAPS FOR ESSAYS ON THRIFT

What school wants a colored map of "The New Europe?" Uncle Sam offers one free to every seven room school that has the pep to go after it.

Distribution has been arranged by the War Savings organization in the Ninth Federal district and M. E. Harrison, director, explains the plan in this way.

"The government has printed in colors a map showing, as accurately as possible, the war made boundaries of the old world. Every teacher will recognize the value of such a map. The government hasn't enough to supply every school room, but our organization can supply one for every seven room school. We suggest that each room have a prize writing contest, the essay dealing with a thrift subject and being limited to 100 words.

"The teacher of each room should select the most promising essays and send them to the city or county superintendent who will cause the final award to be made."

As the contest will be brought to a close on Nov. 1, it is imperative that every school that wishes to obtain one of these government maps, act at once. Any teacher can get further information from the city or county superintendent.

60 MEN AT BARACA CLASS GATHERING

Splendid Dinner Served by the Ladies—Pres. H. A. Olson Speaks of Class Activities

BIBLE SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

Other Speakers Were Dr. Joseph Nicholson, A. J. Hayes, Rev. Arthur C. Smith

Sixty men, members and friends of the First Baptist Baraca class sat at the beautifully decorated banquet tables last night at the church.

After the serving of the most splendid dinner by the ladies, H. A. Olson, the new class president made a short talk on the class and its history, after which he introduced Dr. Jos. Nicholson and A. J. Hayes in five minute talks.

Dr. Nicholson spoke on "The Class and Its Glad-Hand" its place in the church, school and community.

A. J. Hayes talk on "Backing Up the Pastor" was timely and well received.

The principal speaker of the evening was the new popular minister of the church, Rev. A. C. Smith, who spoke on the subject "Investment and Influence," which was listened to with eagerness and delight by all present.

The pastor pleaded for a clean and right kind of influence radiating from the lives of men in professions and business as well as at home, social gathering or the church.

The Bible school orchestra furnished fine music during the serving of the dinner and solos by Rev. Arthur C. Smith and Will Anderson, added to the pleasure of the evening.

The social hour following the program proved that the class had the spirit of the church slogan "The Church of a Cordial Welcome," well grounded in their system. The Baraca class are now looking forward to the event of the year, their annual banquet which comes in November.

W. S. S. CAMPAIGN DRIVE ON OCT. 6

The One Day Sale of Savings Bonds Throughout District Believed Will Rank High

EMPHASIZE NATIONAL THRIFT

Many Communities Proceeding Along Liberty Loan Lines to Achieve Substantial Results

Reports received at the War Savings organization headquarters of the Ninth Federal District in Minneapolis indicate that the government's campaign for the "one day" sale of "savings bonds" throughout the district on Oct. 6th, will, if anything, exceed the government estimates.

On this day sales will be made of the recently authorized $100 and $1,000 treasury certificates and as these certificates bear interest amounting to 4 3/8 per cent and are free from state and federal taxes they are expected to be popular as an investment to say nothing of the patriotic angle of inculcating thrift by means of their purchase.

"If those who can will respond to the opportunity presented by the government on Oct. 6th," said M. E. Harrison, director of the Ninth District War Savings organization, "our present effort to emphasize the paramount necessity of national thrift will not have been in vain.

"What is particularly to the point is that as soon as the mighty mass of common people realize that it is a mistake to spend their money unwisely; that by denying themselves a hundred and one things which they could happily get along without and putting the money thus saved into substantial securities, as soon as this is done the demand for many articles of every day expense will decrease and the moment that there is an equitable adjustment between supply and demand, the props will have been knocked from our 'unwelcome visitor' who has been decidedly obnoxious as a result of the war—H. C. of Living. So you see that by making the October 6th sale an overwhelming success, you are helping to bring about a revision downward of the present high prices."

While the October 6th drive carries with it no allotment and there is no fixed total to be raised, many communities are proceeding along much the same lines as marked the various Liberty Loan campaigns and in fact, in many places, the Liberty Loan organizations are handling the sales. Where there are no such organizations, the War Savings workers are handling the sales.

SOME PUMPKIN AT THE BANK

John H. Milnar of Platte Lake Township Brings 122 Lb. Pumpkin to First National Bank

IS THE HUGEST ONE ON RECORD

Many Tried to Lift it, But Quickly Gave up the Task. Stands About 30 Inches High

Besides having the largest deposits of any bank in the county or central Minnesota district, the First National bank of Brainerd now also boasts of having the largest pumpkin in captivity, one weighing 122 pounds.

The mastodon of the vegetable creation was raised on section 11 in Platte Lake township, 20 miles southeast of Brainerd by John H. Milnar. Early in its vegetable life the pumpkin soon gave promise of attaining a husky size. It was so tame and affectionate that the children played on its broad surface and snapshots were taken with the kids so arranged.

The pumpkin was easily able to carry a load equal to its own weight on its back without breaking through its pink shell. The idea that Mr. Milnar fed his pumpkin butter milk is disproved by him, for he said it just gobbled up rain and sunshine and the natural fertility of the soil and it was only when the family came to the conclusion that it was necessary to terminate the pumpkin's career to save the farm from being upended, that the vines were cut and the vegetable hurried to town.

The pumpkin now reposes on a settee in the rotunda where every depositor may see his majesty and comment on his size and dimensions. His noble head had been garnished with bunches of fine celery, also raised by Mr. Milnar.

It may be stated in an aside that young Mr. Milnar first promised to head that pumpkin to the Dispatch office and announcement was so made in the windows, which were heavily reinforced at their foundation so as to uphold the herculean weight of the vegetable.

ANNOYING KIDNEY ILLS

Make Life Miserable for Many Brainerd People

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day alike, the sufferer is tormented and what with the burning and scalding, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed, a burden. Doan's Kidney Pills have given peace and comfort to many Brainerd people. Profit by this Brainerd resident's experience.

Peter Paulson, 402 Oak St., W., says: "About a year ago I was lifting some heavy bags and slipped and wrenched my back. For several days I was all in and could hardly attend to my work. It seemed to cause an irregular action of my kidneys. I had no energy to do anything, felt tired all the time and suffered from backache. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon relieved me of my trouble. I have been free from backache and kidney trouble ever since."

THRIFT MOVEMENT COVERED BY SPEAKERS

Thrift Campaign Undertaken by the Treasury Department in 1919 Has Two Objectives

ESTABLISH ENDURING HABIT

And to Provide the Government With Funds—Explanation Given of What Thrift is

Shortly rural and city schools of the county through their teachers will hear short talks on the thrift campaign of the government. Other organizations will also take up the matter soon.

The Parent-Teachers association of the Lincoln school discussed it on Friday evening, the secretary Miss Louise Anderson, speaking on the thrift needed to round out national life.

At the Best theatre Rev. Frederick Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church, was to speak at 8 o'clock, but the crush of the crowd to see William Barnum in "The Riders of the Purple Sage," was so dense it upset the program. Another effort will be made to get in a short talk, 2 or 3 minutes, Saturday evening.

Two Objectives

The thrift campaign undertaken by the treasury department in 1919 has two objectives:

1. To supply the government with funds
2. To make thrift an enduring habit.

The government is relying on the men and women who are imbued with the idea of service to the nation, the men and women of deep sincerity, to carry the message of thrift by word of mouth to every corner of the land.

There is no safer or more attractive plan offered for the encouragement of small, systematic investment than the plan of War Savings.

If he can set aside four dollars and a few cents a week, that amount begins working for him at a good rate of interest. Four dollars and a few cents a week—and at the end of five years a principal in hand which makes possible the possession of a home, the education of the children, or the acceptance of a business opportunity.

What is Thrift?
Thrift means applying high principles of business, economy and ethics to every act of life.

It means good management of the business of living.

It means care and prudence in the management of one's affairs—for today, for tomorrow, for next year, for all life, for future generations. It means weighing all that goes into the satisfaction of life—food, clothing, shelter, amusement, education, public affairs, the general welfare.

It means buying what we need, saving what we should, investing what we can.

Thrift consists in making the most of one's resources, tangible and intangible, making the most of them for the benefit of one's self and one's fellows.

A nation whose citizens measure up to this standard is a stable, independent, dependable nation.

When thrift becomes a national habit business will be stabilized as never before, the individual will find a measure of independence, security and influence never before experienced. A community of thrifty people buy steadily and judiciously, and meet their obligations conscientiously.

REPORT FARMER'S WIFE FINDS SATCHEL WITH $150.00C

Pipestone, Minn., Oct. 3.—Authorities are investigating a persistent report that a farmer's wife found a satchel in the road containing $150.00 in gold, currency and Liberty bonds, a few miles south of Pipestone. It is said the money was the booty of bank robbers who recently have robbed several South Dakota banks. A Jasper banker denied that the alleged find was brought to his bank for safekeeping.

HALT INCREASE IN SUGAR PRICE

Experts Predict Cost Will Soar After Jan. 1: Seek Cuban Crop

Washington, Oct. 3.—Told by George A. Zabriskie, president of the sugar equalization board that it was practically certain that unless some legislative action was taken immediately sugar prices would increase after Jan. 1, the senate committee investigating the sugar shortage today requested W. A. Glasgow, counsel for the food administration, to formulate legislation designed to alleviate the situation and to make possible negotiations for purchasing the 1920 Cuban sugar crop.

The committee made its request after Mr. Zabriskie had testified that despite urging by the sugar equalization board, President Wilson had failed to authorize purchase of the Cuban crop and after he, at Chairman McNary's insistence, had presented his correspondence with the President, the Cuban government withdrew its offer of the sugar crop Sept. 23, Zabriskie said.

Here They Are! White Sox Outfielders

Here they are! The five White Sox outfielders the National Commission has decided shall share in the world's series money! If Joe Jackson, Oscar (Happy) Felsch, and Nemo Liebold are disabled, Manager Gleason has John Collins and Eddie Murphy to fall back on. Chicago fans say this is a real outfield.

You Can Depend On The Man Who Advertises

Nine times out of ten you will find that the man who advertises is the man who most willingly returns your money if you are not satisfied.

He has too much at stake to risk losing your trade or your confidence. You can depend on him.

He is not in business for today or tomorrow only—but for next year and ten years from next year. He knows the value of good will.

You get better merchandise at a fairer price than he could ever hope to sell it if he did not have the larger volume of business that comes from legitimate advertising and goods that bear out the promise of the printed word.

Don't miss the advertisements. This very day they call your attention to values that tomorrow you will be sorry you overlooked.
